

SOCIETY FOR MILITARY PSYCHOLOGY

Presents this 2019 Presidential Citation to

William "Bill" Brim, PsyD

For his selfless service, leadership, and technical skills applied to the Division 19 and national trainings offered in the field of military psychology.

Dr. Brim served as a critical committee member for the Advocacy for Military Psychology Summit hosted by the Division 19 and District of Columbia Psychological Association in Washington, DC. Dr. Brim's social media and technological expertise and leadership allowed for nationally recognized leaders and veteran service organizations in the field of military psychology to successfully present to well over 100 attendees participating in the inaugural Summit from around the world.

Dr. Brim is the Director of the U.S. Department of Defense's Center for Deployment Psychology (CDP), where he oversees a 10 million dollar annual budget and the 50+ personnel of the Center. CDP has conducted national and international training for both military and civilian medical and behavioral health providers. They direct the delivery of over 4,000 hours of professional continuing education per year. Training topics include health psychology, behavioral sleep medicine, cognitive behavioral therapy (CBT) for insomnia, sleep and posttraumatic stress disorder (PTSD), military culture (course received White House recognition), preparation for the deployment cycle for military and family members, and prolonged exposure therapy for PTSD.

Dr. Brim has published over 20 articles and book chapters on Military Culture. In addition, he has written peer-reviewed articles and book chapters on sleep disorders and posttraumatic stress and presented at over 300 workshops and invited presentations on CBT for Insomnia, and Sleep and PTSD.

For his leadership and support in providing advancements in national training for the field of military psychology and for his leadership in providing trainings for the Society, I, Stephen V. Bowles, take great pleasure in presenting the Society for Military Psychology Presidential Citation to Dr. William "Bill" Brim.

Stephen V. Bowles, PhD, ABPP
