

CPT Misha Strage is a Clinical Psychologist currently in her residency at Tripler Army Medical Center, HI. She earned her PhD in Medical and Clinical Psychology from the Uniformed Services University of Health Sciences (USUHS) in Bethesda, MD. Prior to commissioning in the U.S. Army, CPT Strage worked at the National Center for PTSD at the Boston VA where she conducted research on Written Exposure Therapy. CPT Stage's professional interests include executive coaching, physiological and psychological readiness, and the impacts of stress on performance specifically in austere environments.

